

In English, we have been learning to write a persuasive letter to persuade the principal to hold a family day celebration. We have been using evidence from different texts and examples from our own life to support our point of view.

