

In Science we have been making models and conducting investigations to help us to explain how the rotation of Earth creates day and night, sunrise and sunset and shadows.

